DC Family 'Adopts' Hungarian Pair

Less than eight short weeks ago, Janos Arpasy, 45, and his son, Josef, 19, bravely fled across the Austrian border to freedom from strife-torn Hungary.

Last Thursday they took up residence here as Daly City's first refugees from the stormy Balkan country, survivors of an episode that has stirred the hearts of free men everywhere.

Piously grateful and humble, Janos and Josef moved in with their new "family" last week, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Irvine, a middle-aged couple who live in a modest home at 102 Templeton avenue.

Unlucky Star

The Arpasys, unlike some 17,000 of their countrymen who have taken refuge in the United States the past two months, got off to an unfortunate start in their adopted homeland. Their original "sponsor," a San Francisco painting contractor, put them to work, but failed to pay. This setback quickly was remedied by the Irvines, who agreed to take in the pair after learning of their plight from Dr. Stefan Ney, Hungarian-born San Francisco dentist.

Ney immediately lined up for Janos a job as a painter, his lifetime work, and managed to get Josef on as a dental lab technician, a job the youth held in Hungary.

The Arpasys decision to leave Hungary was a difficult one, they pointed out through Dr. Ney as interpreter.

Terror Regime

"All Hungarians are living in constant fear, under a regime worse than the Nazis," Jonas remarked. "The riots in Budapest merely touched off a new wave of terrorism by the Red dictators. They began rounding up thousands of innocent Hungarians, not only the freedom fighters but helpless civilians, for shipment to Soviet labor camps. Our only hope was to leave it all, risking a perilous flight into Austria."

From their town of Gyor, 130 miles outside of Budapest, Janos and Josef, accompanied by 100 other countrymen, walked 75 miles to reach the Austrian border. Taking nothing but the clothes on their backs, they traveled by night, hiding out in the daytime from the secret police and Russians.

Red Tanks

Reaching the border, the Arpasys and their comrades were confronted by two Russian tanks, but the Soviets, knowing they would be overwhelmed by numbers, declined to fire on the escapees.

"When we crossed into Austria," Janos continued, "we all

GETTING a new lease on freedom last week were Janos Arpasy (second from left) and his son, Josef, first Hungarian refugees to be sponsored by a Daly City family. The new arrivals were "adopted" by Mrs. Jack Irvine (right) and her husband, of 102 Templeton avenue. On hand to extend a big welcome was Dr. Stefan Ney (far left,) Hungarian-born San Francisco dentist who aided the pair's placement here. THE RECORD photo

Those two travelling men, HENRY DOELGER and FRED BERETETTA, former DC planning commissioner, are bound for South America to pick up Mr. D's million-dollar yacht. They will bring the yacht from Trinidad to Miami, Fla.

Fred just returned from a summer jaunt to Europe, while Henry likewise visited the continent during the summer on the maiden voyage of his new yacht, Westlake II.

On Sunday, January 27, gas station proprietor JOSEPH LEWKOWITZ will again pump gas for the March of Dimes, with five cents of each gallon sold going to the polio fund.

Joe says his goal this year is to pump 1000 gallons of gas or more.

It will mark the ninth year that

BUSINESS UP 78.5% HERE PAST TEN YEARS

Daly City realized a 78.5 per cent increase in the number of businesses in 1956 over the 1946 figure, according to a report on Northern California's 47 counties released this week by Dun & Bradstreet.

Ten years ago, 177 business firms were listed here, while the total at the end of 1956 was 316.

San Mateo County marked a 61.4 per cent increase for the same period. The county reported 1762 businesses in 1946 and 4629 in 1956.

Dun & Bradstreet officials pointed out that Sharp Park, Belmont, Menlo Park, San Carlos and San Bruno recorded phenomenal growth for the ten-year period.

Sharp Park topped San Mateo County cities in percentage of increase with a 221.7 rate. The Coastside community had 23 businesses in 1946 and 74 in 1956.

Next in line were: Belmont, 219.6 per cent; Menlo Park, 141.8; San Carlos, 132.2, and San Bruno, 92.3.

The figures list only manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, and some service companies, such as gasoline stations and laundries. They do not include all professional and service businesses, such as barber and beauty shops, real estate and stock brokers.

OIL FIRM NAMES THE RECORD IN 'SELECTED' 400

Union Oil Company of California, one of the nations largest advertisers, has cancelled all billboard advertising and will increase substantially its newspaper campaigns in both dailies and selected weeklies, according to Reese H. Taylor, chairman of the board.

Among the weekly newspapers selected to carry Union Oil's advertising in 1957 is THE RECORD.

"Two factors were of primary concern to Union Oil in reaching the decision to abandon billboard advertising," explained Mr. Taylor,

"First is the traffic hazard which a great many experts have indicated billboards tend to increase.

"Second is an apparent and growing resentment on the part of many people and residential communities to obscuring the beauty of our natural landscape with this type of advertising.

In another unprecedented policy move, Taylor revealed Union Oil's plans for 1957 include use of an impressive list of over 400 selected weekly newspapers in the seven western states.

"We are initiating this test campaign in the weeklies because we believe such newspapers in the West are thoroughly read and are an effective medium to reach a large portion of the motoring public," he said.

Exposure Charged To Owner Of Home Struck By Bandit

Daly City real estate salesman Fred Needels Jr., 30, was booked on an indecent exposure charge Monday in Burlingame just a few hours before a masked bandit broke into his home at 7 Lake Forest drive and bound and gagged his baby-sitter.

Two 14-year-old girls, one from Hillsborough and one from Palo Alto, related to police that the man called them over to his car Saturday at El Camino Real and Palm drive. They said he asked for directions in a mumbling tone, then exposed himself as they reached the car. The girls noted the license plate of the alleged molester and the number was traced to a car registered to Needels.

Needels was released on $250 bail after being booked Monday and is scheduled to appear this Friday before Judge J. A. Branson in San Mateo district municipal court.

On New Year's eve at 11:55 p.m. Needel's baby-sitter was bound and gagged by a masked assailant, who ran from the scene when she screamed. A similar incident occurred in Broadmoor December 20. A 37-year-old San Francisco truck driver, Joseph Golden, is being held as the masked burglar, following his capture in Broadmoor Wednesday morning.

OUTCOME of a hot court battle will determine whether Neville Motors will be allowed to proceed with plans to build their new dealership headquarters on this property fronting Mission street across from Jefferson High School. Homeowners filed the suit in protest of the city council's rezoning of the property to commercial. Old buildings were torn down last week and grading on the site was launched. THE RECORD photo

Council To Map Plans, Policies At Initial 1957 Meeting Wed.

Ex-Con Captured Here; Held As 'Masked Burglar'

A San Francisco truck driver with a long record of felony convictions was captured at gunpoint in Broadmoor Wednesday morning and held as a prime suspect in a recent wave of Daly City-Broadmoor burglaries.

Police officer Charles Manning captured Joseph Golden, 35, at 8:40 a.m. Wednesday as the alleged burglar was crouched beside a house at 752 Stoneyford drive, his face covered with a rubber mask and a foot-long bread knife in his hand. He surrendered without a battle when Manning leveled the gun on him.

Golden, being held at county jail, was charged with burglary and assault with a deadly weapon. The latter charge was lodged as a result of a bizarre incident that occurred December 20 while 17-year-old Bernadette Kostevich was baby sitting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Messier, 819 Larchmont drive.

Wields Knife

Miss Kostevich related to police that a masked man walked into the home while she was baby sitting, threatened her with a knife as he bound her to a chair, and blindfolded, gagged her. He did not molest the girl and apparently stole nothing, police said.

An almost identical crime occurred New Year's eve at 11:55 o'clock at the Fred Needles home, 7 Forest Grove drive, where 16-year-old Dorothy Schmidt was baby-sitting.

A man, identified by both girls as Golden, entered via the back door, forced Miss Schmidt to enter the bedroom while he brandished the butcher knife, and bound and gagged her.

After trussing up the girl, he told her to go to the basement and she started screaming. The assailant then became frightened and ran off, again without harming the girl or taking any loot.

"Candlelight" Suspect?

Police are investigating the possibility that Golden may have been the Christmas Eve "candleight" burglar who raided two neighboring homes in both Broadmoor and Westlake.

Manning was alerted of Golden's presence in the neighborhood Wednesday by Mrs. Fred Bullis, 752 Stoneyford drive. She phoned to report a prowler in her back yard. Golden, she said, ran down 87th street toward Beechwood, then circled back and crouched at the side of her house. At his capture Golden was wearing a Halloween-type rubber mask described as the same as that worn when the baby-sitters were terrorized.

Police said capture of Golden "may solve a lot of cases."

Golden, an ex inmate of both Folsom and San Quentin on previous burglary, robbery and auto theft charges, would tell police nothing, other than make a blanket denial of all the charges. He said he had never seen the mask and knife which were taken from him at his arrest.

Broadmoor police chief Ray Savage said Miss Kostevich, 824 Larchmont drive, had picked Golden out of a line-up as her assailant.

Await 'Concrete Proposal' From SSF On Disposal Site

A "concrete" proposal from South San Francisco on use of that city's tidelands property for a Daly City garbage disposale site will be presented to the city council by January 15, City Manager Howard Stites revealed today.

Stites and city managers of San Bruno, John Keefe, and South San Francisco, Gene Aiello, held a two-hour session on the joint tidelands garbage operation Monday but came to no decisions.

"We can't do a thing until we have concrete figures from South San Francisco," Stites point out. He said Aiello agreed have a specific proposal for Daly City and San Bruno by January 15.

Stites said he and the other two managers were chiefly concerned with handling of the site operation at their Monday session.

Two Methods

Stites declared that either one of two methods might be satisfactory to Daly City, providing costs were not excessive. He explained that under one proposal South San Francisco would operate the disposal site and charge the city on a ton basis for dumping garbage. Another method, he continued, would be operation of the dump by Daly City under the direction of South San Francisco.

The contract for dumping, probably on a 25-year basis, would be made with the city,

JESD Lets Contracts For Two Grade Schools

Trustees Friday night awarded construction bids for the crucially needed Vista Grande primary and Vista Mar elementary schools, scheduled to be completed a year from now.

Contract for Vista Grande, Thiers and Wyandotte streets, went to Hub Pacific Co., at a cost of $253,300. The board tentatively accepted the $484,000 bid of Ed Eoff Construction Co. for Vista Mar, to be located on Southgate avenue.

Routine approval of both contracts by the district attorney and the state department of finance is expected later this week, according to Superintendent H. Z. Weibel. Construction will begin immediately.

The K-4 Vista Grande will contain 6 classrooms and two other units. Vista Mar will include 12 classrooms, a multi-purpose room and an administration building.

Other bidders for Vista Grande: Hart & Hynding, $260,857; Ed Eoff, $280,600; Theo G. Meyer & Sons, $285,905; E. H. Moore & Sons, $286,000, and Pacific Coast Builders, $306,000.

Additional bidders on Vista Mar: Hart & Hynding, $486,200; Hub Pacific, $493,500; B & R, $532,515; E. H. Moore & Sons, $554,500, and Theo G. Meyer & Sons, $561,500.

Increase in district enrollment by 500 children next September may force temporary double sessions in the district until the two new schools are completed.

Also scheduled to be completed by next January are seven additional classrooms at Benjamin Franklin. Plans for this project will be submitted for final state approval in about two months, according to Mario J. Ciampi, district architect.

MAYOR OUTLINES MAJOR WORKS SLATED FOR YEAR

A statement of projects and policies for 1957 will be issued by councilmen Wednesday when they convene for their first meeting of the year after three weeks of inactivity because of the holidays.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said he plans to outline what he considers priority projects for the year and indicated most of the other councilmen would have similar reports.

Expected to be a hotly-disputed issue this year is the one-cent municipal sales tax. The mayor said public hearing on the proposed levy would be scheduled in the near future.

Resolving the garbage situation is a topic that will also command a top priority with the council, Verducci said.

Another weighty issue is the hiring of a captain for the police department. Controversy is expected on the means of hiring the new police official—whether the candidates should be limited to members of the present police force or made open to all candidates.

"Quite Concerned"

The mayor said he was also "quite concerned" about use of the city's $135,000 undistributed reserve fund.

"Some councilmen are talking about allocating this money to the various departments in need of funds," the mayor revealed. "On that basis we should have no

The Record To Publish Directory

Publication of a 1957 Daly City Business and Professional Directory was announced today by Harold P. Bradshow, editor of THE RECORD.

The handy guide to local businesses and professions will also contain valuable information on municipal facilities, emergency phone numbers, etc. It was last published in 1953 but decision to print a 1957 edition was prompted by heavy demand from merchants, housewives and professional people, Bradshaw said. This year's directory will be distributed to every home in Daly City, Colma and Broadmoor in early March.

Business listings will be classified and display advertising space will also be available.

Space may be reserved by calling the display advertising department at PL 5-4321, PL 5-4322 or PL 5-8543.

ANTI-'LEAGUE' SCHOOLS GROUP TO MEET MONDAY

A committee of citizens "dissatisfied" with past work of the League for Better Schools will meet Monday night to organize a new group "to promote more interest in the schools."

Tom Noonan of Sterling Park, unsuccessful candidate for the Jefferson Elementary school board last year, is temporary chairman of the organization. Others include Stanley Brown of Garden Village and Marie Sorenson, former school clerk.

Noonan said many people are "dissatisfied" with the League for Better Schools, organized three years ago to encourage qualified candidates to run for the school board. Noonan said "interest is lacking" on the League. His group, he said, would try to not only encourage qualified candidates, but back them vigorously after they had been selected to run for office.

Other aims, Noonan said, would be "a better teacher relationship." He declared the district's turnover of teachers was "far too high."

Monday's meeting will be held at the Westlake school, starting at 8 p.m.

The public is urged to attend, Noonan said.

December Building Decreases Slightly

Daly City building for December held about even with the previous year, with 43 permits totalling $252,035 being issued.

Residential work accounted for most of the total, with 26 permits being issued with valuation of $238,355.

There were 11 dwelling alterations permits worth $9255, one residential garage, $1000, one fire damage, $1000, and demolition of 96 Mission Circle, $900.

The month was unusual only in that no permits were issued for new commercial structures.

December, 1935, was only slightly ahead of last month with 45 permits totalling $306,810 being issued, according to Building Inspector George Hopman.

A marked decrease in building activity is normal for December,

Bride Won't See Wiegner For A While

Clo Ann Wiegner, 17-year-old "kidnaped" bride, will not get an opportunity to join her husband again if the county juvenile probation department has anything to say about it.

Clo Ann, almost completely recovered from injuries suffered when Wiegner smashed his car outside Denver in an attempt to elude police, was taken to Hillcrest juvenile home Wednesday as a ward of the superior court. Anthony Lovoi, deputy probation officer, revealed that Clo Ann may face a four to five month stay at the juvenile home.

Order detaining her there was signed by Superior Judge Murray Draper and may be extended at request of the juvenile department.

"Our plans about what to do with Clo Ann depend a lot on what happens to Wiegner," Lovoi revealed.

Wiegner, along with fellow Napa escapee Jesse Eastman, were scheduled to be extradited from Denver sometime this week. Local police inspector Bruno Conci was prepared to depart by plane to pick the men up as soon as necessary papers are received from the governor's office.

"We're not going to let him (Wiegner) run off with her again," the probation officer asserted. "Besides, she's got to be on hand as a material witness against Wiegner and Eastman." The two Napa inmates face six separate charges ranging from auto theft to assault with a deadly weapon for the abduction of Clo Ann on December 17.

Lovoi said the young Daly City bride was "very quiet but in a good frame of mind" when brought to the juvenile home.

Lovoi said Clo Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mowatt, 731 Niantic avenue, have not opposed their daughter's detention in Hillcrest, apparently because they also want to see her kept from any contact with Wiegner.

"I don't see how Wiegner can possibly be released but we don't want to take any chances," Lovoi said.

his Daly City Super Service has set aside one-day's profits for the polio drive.

Also on the good works side, insurance man MEL BATTYE doubled up as a Santa Claus for Christmas parties at both James Snell PTA and Garden Village school. It marked the umpteenth year he has played the role of the old gent. Even has his own permanent costume.

Mrs. LYDIA TALBOT, public spirited Daly City lady, offers the following advice for motorists: "When driving your car, why not be as smiling and courteous as you are when the other driver is backing out of a parking place that you want."

Broadmoor residents are fretful that should Zita Corporation be stopped from grading by a restraining order sought by MIKE CALLAN, the excavation that has already been made on the site would force heavy runoff into their property.

Engineer CYRIL WEILER of Daly City says, however, that most of the preliminary grading done on the land was for purposes of erosion control. Rather than be worsened, the drainage should be improved, he said.

knelt down and prayed for our blessings. The hospitality of Austrains and American consular officials was wonderful. They gave us clothing, food and housing, but above all, great hope for the future."

Processing at the American consulate in Vienna took three weeks. Janos and Josef then boarded a U. S. military plane, made stops in Paris and Newfoundland, and finally reached Camp Kilmer, New Jersey.

"It was just a lucky mistake that brought us to California," Janos enthused. "Unable to speak or read English, Josef and I got in the wrong processing line and wound up among the first Hungarians to reach the West coast.

Gratitude

"I just don't have enough words to express how thankful we are," the father expressed. "You Americans have everything, and are willing to share with less fortunate peoples."

Both Janos and Josef are catching on quickly to American customs, and their English is improving rapidly, according to Mrs. Irvine. "They will make fine citizens," she beamed, "because they know the full meaning of democracy."

Mrs. Irvine, one of the first Bay Area residents offering to sponsor a Hungarian family, has four children. The oldest is 31 and the youngest 19, all living away from home.

Versatile Lady

Born in the Philippines of American-Filipino ancestry, Mrs. Irvine is a versatile housewife with a professional touch. During her free time, she authors children's stories, having several of them published in local periodicals.

Her husband, Jack, former New York resident, works as a master pipe fitter at the Western Pipe and Steel Company in South San Francisco.

Right now, the Irvines are looking for a larger house here to better accomodate their new "family." The Daly City couple couldn't be happier, knowing that like thousands of Americans, they are giving a helping hand to the truly courageous people of Hungary.

CALLAN CITES JOYS AS BOARD CHAIRMAN; TURNS OVER GAVEL

"One of the greatest pleasures I have ever had in my whole life" was the way Supervisor Thomas Callan of Colma described his past year's tenure as chairman of the board Wednesday as he handed over the gavel to Edward R. McDonald.

Callan, the tempestuous official who made news copy almost daily with his outspoken criticisms and debate, said his chairmanship "was about the highest honor a little farmer could gain in the county in which he was born."

While McDonald was sworn in as chairman, Callan and Supervisors William Werder and Alvin Hatch were installed to new four-year terms on the board.

reserve left at the end of the year. I think we've got to tie these funds down to specific capital improvement uses."

Verducci said the chief project he would seek would be acquisition of a site for a future city hall.

Purchase of a site for and construction of a branch library in Westlake could virtually exhaust the reserve fund.

"We've got to be careful how we finance the library," the official continued. "There still remains a lot of discussion on how we'll finance construction of the branch."

Sales Tax Program

On the sales tax "hot potato," the mayor said a program would have to be presented listing precisely for what the revenue would be used. He suggested that a capital expenditure fund be created from sales tax revenue. This money might go to such purposes as construction of a city hall or expansion of the police department. He said the levy also might be used as a means of lowering property taxes or reducing bonded indebtedness.

Other projects listed on Verducci's priority list included:

1. Hiring of a planning consultant to develop a master plan for Daly City.
2. Development of a survey on water supply and production.
3. Further negotiations on the annexation of Broadmoor. City Manager Howard Stites is scheduled to present a report on this topic Wednesday.
4. Posible purchase of a new fire engine.
5. Completion of the Daly City community center. Funds for this may have to come from undistributed reserve, Verducci said.

Verducci estimated that very few facilities would be needed for the Zita Corporation's St. Francis Heights development because only a small portion of the acreage is destined for subdivision this year.

The council will, however, have to start planning municipal facilities for the new tract in 1958.

which in turn would pass on costs to the Daly City Scavenger Co. Stites said the scavenger firm would not be able to enter a long-term contract with South San Francisco because the garbage firm's contract with Daly City is subject to renewal at regular intervals.

Stites said if the tidelands site was acceptable to Daly City satisfactory routes for transporting the garbage would have to be established, since "every extra mile travelled would add considerably to the cost of disposal."

Might Be Useless

There is a possibility that the South San Francisco site would be made "useless" should state legislation now under consideration be approved. The proposed bill would prohibit deposit of rubbish below the level of ground water to avoid contamination of water supplies. Stites said chances of the bill's passing were "problematical."

Daly City Scavenger Co. is currently dumping on a "doomed" site on the McKeon property west of Junipero Serra which is planned for development as a subdivision.

Stites said the local scavengers would have to be taken into consideration on any decision made by the city for contracting with South San Francisco.

To Major Projects Face Daly City's New Works Director

Daly City's first full-time director of public works reported for duty Wednesday and was immediately confronted with two major projects.

Otis T. Calhoun, 47, of North Hollywood will receive $801 a month for the post, held up to this time on a temporary basis by Cyril Weiler.

City Manager Howard Stites said Calhoun would start to work in the near future on two major city projects: a water production and distribution survey and a capital improvement plan.

The manager said extra help would have to be hired to conduct the water survey, which will take approximately one year to complete.

Wild 'Ride' Puts Colma Ex-Convict In Jail For Year

Homer P. Watson, Colma ex-convict who admitted taking a South San Francisco couple on a wild ride at gunpoint November 30, Friday was sentenced to a year in county jail by Superior Judge Murray Draper.

Watson, a meat packer of 162 Washington street, pleaded guilty to charges of assault with a deadly weapon, carrying a concealed weapon and cutting a telephone line.

Judge Draper said he considered the possibility of a state prison sentence for Watson but noted that both victims had requested that the defendant not be sent to prison.

Watson's attorney, George E. Hammer, informed the court that the Colma man had spent 16 years in Arkansas prisons but that his record had been excellent since his arrival in California six years ago.

Victims of the 43-year-old meat packer, who described him as a "family friend," were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Aplet, 854 Commercial avenue. Watson and Mrs. Aplet were fellow employes.

Two DC Brothers Quit Folks, Flee With $350 Cash

Police continued their hunt today for two Daly City step brothers who left home New Year's day with $350 of their parents' money and are believed headed for Nebraska.

Missing are Larry G. Noah, 17, and John F. Wolfe, 8, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Crouch, 1014 Hanover street.

Crouch reported the boys gone Tuesday night, after discovering the $350 loss from his wife's purse.

The parents think both youths will turn up in Omaha, where they have an aunt. No explanation was given why the pair left home, according to police.

Noah, who works as a messenger in San Francisco, was placed on probation last month by county juvenile authorities. The younger boy attends General Pershing school.

LET'S CONDUCT OUR OWN SURVEY

A long over-due survey on Daly City's water resources and production is to be launched by the city this year.

The availability of good, clear water has always been one of Daly City's most outstanding assets. Loss of supply through faulty methods of production or inadequate reservoirs would be catastrophic.

But we question the economy of any such survey which will have to rely on hiring of outside engineering talent at considerable expense.

Daly City this week greeted its first full time director of public works, who receives a salary of $801 a month.

The 1956-57 city budget provides for hiring of one engineer, one junior civil engineer, two engineer aid II, two engineer aid I, a secretary and the director of public works.

This makes a total of eight persons in the engineering department at a total annual salary cost of $41,172.

In addition, the water department has a staff of 12 persons paid a combined salary of $52,464. In other words, almost $1000,000 is paid out in salaries for these two departments each year.

We believe between the two departments there is sufficient talent to conduct a survey of Daly City's water needs, under supervision of the director of public works, who is trained in such matters.

Nowhere in the budget is there mentioned funds for employing outside consultants on the water survey. We would deduce, therefore, that the funds would have to come from the undistributed reserve should the survey be launched this fiscal year.

The reserve was originally intended as a source of funds for capital improvement projects. Yet should it be "tapped" for varied unbudgeted projects at regular intervals throughout the year, it will degenerate into nothing more than a surplus for the council to finance pet projects not approved in the adopted budget.

Already several thousand dollars have been appropriated from the reserve for projects which could have well been foreseen in the original budget.

A substantial fiscal reserve is a necessity for a city that has many major building projects to finance—but the reserve should not be tapped at the council's whim.

And a survey on Daly City's water system is a must—but it should be conducted by our own experts and paid for out of the duly adopted departmental budget.

Open Letter To An Ex-Villager

Dear E-V:

With everyone busy with his or her own family and Christmas, we had a bit of trouble finding the usual news items which we pass along weekly. We had thought of telling somewhat about the numerous children on every sidewalk in town playing with new bikes and skates, or charging at each other equipped with helmets and swords a la King Arthur, or space helmets a la 20th century. We could mention how beautifully so many homes were decorated inside and out, and how happy everyone seems to be with the gifts which came from under the tree. We could write about all this, and we were going to—and then we happened to look at a TV program which changed things.

The program was a familiar one, seen by many people each week, but this time it dealt with a young Hungarian patriot who escaped from his home land and is now safe over here. He does not intend, however, to relax and take it easy (a phrase as common to our daily living as electric light) now that he himself is safe. He intends to do something about his country and his countrymen. Maybe his own effort will never be felt singly, and maybe it will, but he will do something for the others.

There's a phrase, too; one which could be more familiar to everyone's daily living. Do something for the others. There are people here in the Villages who know well the meaning of this phrase already, bless 'em. Our lead item last week about the girls who help brighten a sick woman's life bears this out, as did the note during this past year which told about a group of men painting a widowed neighbor's house for her, and the ones about women who took care of home and children for sick friends. And you remember the time when just about everyone helped a family whose home had been burned, and how much certain people have done to make a family newly arrived from Holland feel at home.

The same thought runs through the past Christmas week like a sliver ribbon. The Colma fire department had its party for all the children, with that wonderful ride on the engine included. The Broadmoor police department gave a party, too, with some of the Village children dancing to entertain the others. Santa sanctioned both parties, of course, and also knocked at every door in Garden Village where he knew there were excited children waiting. His list of names came from the GV Home Owners association, and Mel Battye had somewhat to do with this, too.

You would have been glad to see how much work and thought the Broadmoor Property Owners association put into building a nativity scene for everyone to see on what can't possibly be thought of now as just a vacant lot on Washington and 87th street. We hope it will be reserved for this same use for all the years it will not be built upon. The scene was made especially beautiful by music on the cold brilliant nights before Christmas when groups from the different churches gathered to sing hymns and carols. What is there about Christmas music which makes it like no other, ever?

That same silver ribbon leads us to Vi and Vin Murphy, driving two cars of delighted nuns from Holy Angels church all around and about to see the Christmas lights, from San Francisco to Buri-Buri and all points between.

And it leads, too, to Chuck Manning of the BPD, making a newly moved-in Village family very happy by returning a lost Siamese cat soon after it had been reported, knowing they were sad and worried about the loss of a special pet. The new Villagers, by the way, are the McDaniels, who are all settled on Nimitz, and we are glad they are here.

It's things like these which make Christmas mean Christmas, which strike a note in a daily or weekly run of events in the same way a manger scene on a table at home provides a gentle reminder in the middle of the bright cards and candles. Somehow, these special things set the days aright again when they have all gone off balance with commercial red and green being thrust at people before Halloween black and orange have completely disappeared, with too many Santas in too many stores, with mountains of projects to finish in time, and shopping, baking, wrapping presents, and trimming trees and homes. To be sure, many and most of the presents and projects are for others, but often the attitudes which go with them are all awry.

So, another Christmas day is behind us for another year, but that doesn't have to mean the season stops too. The new 1957 is just beginning his young life; he belongs to all of us, as would another child to raise. How we raise him in each home and family is up to us, but maybe we could start him off with some of the glow of the Christmas season, and the knowledge of kindness and its use. He has so much to do and such along way to travel before the next Christmas—and each of us bears the responsibility of teaching him to walk. May he, and you, go with God.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

Now that the pre-Christmas theatrical lull is over the post-holiday rush is on, bringing with it "The Sleeping Prince," which opened at the Geary last week.

It stars Francis Lederer in the title role of Prince Regent of Carpathia, amythical Balkan kingdom. Spending a day or two in London for the coronation of George V and not wishing to be alone, he invites an American chorus girl, played by Shirley MacLaine, to share an intimate supper for two.

Worldly wise in an innocent way, she it at first unwilling to stay until reassured by David Lewis, a representative of the British Foreign Office, that he will create a suitable interruption before matters get out of hand.

Gossamer Plot

We feel we shouldn't guide you by the hand through the delicate tracings of this gossamer plot. Watching it unfold on the stage you have the feeling that you are admiring on intricate Christmas tree arnament, all shiny-bright, but so fragile that a rude hand or a cold draft will shatter it. It is beautiful and amusing and light-hearted and gay, but it must be seen, not described.

Lederer is a first a stiff, humorless man, intent upton taking care of the business in his briefcase before getting down to the business of the evening. Obviously one who has spent a lifetime handling delicate diplomatic and personal situations with suavity and charm, he has yet to blunder. But none of us can escape forever, and his time comes when Miss MacLaine, urged to enjoy the supper, particularly the vodka and champagne, does so with a willing spirit but a weak capacity.

Under the influence, she is a complete delight in one of the most deliciously hilarious scenes we have ever witnessed. This is definitely the high point of the play, which is inclined to become a little thin toward the end.

A Gay Evening

A relative newcomer on the theatrical scene, Miss MacLaine is definitely the find of the season. So often the timing, technique, and mannerisms of acting are so obvious that they obscure the point they are meant to make. In Miss MacLaine, the technique forms the invisible skeleton for the glowing scintillating characterization.

Also starred is Hermione Gingold as Lederer's second wife. She is a vague soul with unexpected flashes of extremely keen insight and a fascinating inability to hear anything even remotely displeasing. Hers is a masterly performance.

This spun-suger confection will give you one of the gayest evenings in the theater in many a long day.

RUN WITH THE PACK

It's all right to express your individuality when you pick out a tie or a hat, but when you drive, run with the pack, says the California State Automobile Association. Don't be the one who swerves in and out of traffic, speeding up and then having to step heavily on the brakes. Pace yourself with the flow of traffic, you'll avoid trouble.

Something For Everyone

Increased interest in religion, one of the characteristics of the post-war world, is reflected in the large number of books on the major religions which have been published in recent years. These books have had continued popularity at the Daly City Public Library, where they take their place beside older books on the world's religions.

In observance of World Religion Day, January 20, 1957, the Library is calling special attention to some of the most interesting of the recent and older titles. Joseph Gaer's WISDOM OF THE LIVING RELIGIONS is a collection of excerpts from the essential teachings of all present-day religious beliefs. Lew Ayres' ALTARS OF THE EAST presents in book form much of the material used in his highly-successful motion picture coverage of world religious ceremonies and rituals. GUIDE TO THE RELIGIONS OF AMERICA, by Leo Rosten, is exactly what the title implies. A similar work, though more concise and factual, is HANDBOOK OF DENOMINATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES, by Frank Spencer Mead, an invaluable reference source which is available for consultation in the Library.

Several other titles, still in the field of comparative religions, deserve special mention: Jack Finegan's THE ARCHAEOLOGY OF WORLD RELIGIONS, a veritable encyclopedia of ancient and modern religious beliefs and writings; Henry Forman's THE TRUTH IS ONE, which is especially valuable for its fine illustrations; and the revised edition of Charles Braden's THE WORLD RELIGIONS.

For those who wish to make a special study of the Bible, the Library suggests Mary Ellen Chase's LIFE AND LANGUAGE OF THE OLD TESTAMENT, Ray Freeman Jenney's BIBLE PRIMER, Robert McAfee Brown's THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU, and Edith Deen's ALL THE WOMEN OF THE BIBLE.

Among the more popular recent titles are the best-selling C. S. Lewis book, SURPRISED BY JOY; Arnold Toynbee's AN HISTORIAN'S APPROACH TO RELIGION, a highly-controversial work; Alexander Lake's YOUR PRAYERS ARE ALWAYS ANSWERED; and Marguerite Harmon Bro's WHEN CHILDREN ASK, which is an invaluable guide for parents who are having difficulty in explaining such abstract ideas as prayer and death.

Roman Catholic readers will be especially interested in the newly-acquired reference set of the famous basic work, BUTLER'S LIVES OF THE SAINTS. Other recen Catholic publications include: DEAD SEA SCROLLS AND THE ORIGINALITY OF CHRIST, by Geoffrey Graystone; Thomas Merton's THE LIVING BREAD; Paul H. Hallett's WHAT IS CATHOLICITY?; and A REPORT ON THE AMERICAN JESUITS, with text by Father John La Farge and photographs by Margaret Bourke-White.

For those who would know more about the Jewish faith, the Library suggests Maurice Samuel's CERTAIN PEOPLE OF THE BOOK, and the comprehensive four-volume work, THE JEWISH PEOPLE: PAST AND PRESENT, which covers all phases of Jewish life, customs, heritage and belief in all parts of the world.

These and many similar books are available at the Daly City Public Library, 6351 Mission street, and the Westlake-Broadmoor Branch Library, 34 Park Plaza drive. Remember, your public library has something for everyone!

During the general session of the legislature Francis will introduce bills:

1. Increasing the punishments for convicted drunk drivers and serious traffic offenders.
2. Increasing the punishments for convicted narcotics offenders.
3. Prohibiting the carrying of concealed switchblade knives.
4. Providing that commissions paid by insurance companies to the state be deposited into a fund for some public benefit.

6. Increasing the punishment of persons unlawfully operating a motor vehicle and causing serious bodily injury to another person or persons.

CLUTCH ADJUSTMENT

The clutch pedal on an automobile which is equipped with a standard transmission should have a free play of about one inch. Check with your automobile dealer to find out what free pedal play your car should have, says the California State Automobile Association. Too much or too little will eventually cause trouble.

Woman's Screams Foil Rape Try By Car 'Helper'

Accosted was Mrs. Patricia Gianandria, 28, a Yellow Cab dispatcher, who was returning from work at 4:30 a.m. when the attack try occurred.

Mrs. Gianandria, en route to meet her husband at 353 Winchester street, said the suspect followed her car after giving her a push when her vehicle stalled on Santa Rosa and Alemany. When her car stalled again, he drove up and told her to park the vehicle so that he could determine the trouble.

The assailant then jumped into Mrs. Gianandria's car and started choking her. When her screams drew the attention of two unidentified pedestrians, the attacker leaped back into his car and sped north on Mission street.

The suspect, according to the police report, was about 5-8, had black hair, walked with a slight limp and appeared cross eyed.

A thief calmly walked into the St. Vincent De Paul Thrift Shop on Mission street Monday afternoon and took $105 from the till while the clerk was working in the rear of the biulding.

Mrs. Mary Pfeifer discovered the loss when a truck driver, Art Frey, informed her that he saw a suspicious man at the cash register. The culprit was leaving the store when Frey entered and greeted the latter with a friendly "hello."

Frey described the thief as being about 35, 5-8, and wearing a top coat.

JEFF OTTINGS
By Alda Caggiano

Mrs. Marjorie Reandeau, the oldest teacher in point of service at Jeff, has been elected President of the Bay Section of the California Teachers Association for the year of 1957. The Bay Section Council represents 13 bay area counties of which 25,000 teachers are members.

The time for student body elections is almost here. Monday, January 14, is the last day for petitions, and January 21 is the day set aside for the nomination speeches. The date for election is January 25 with the installation assembly taking place on Monday, February 4. Those elected to office will be formally installed on Monday, February 4. All the girls interested in trying out for pep girl, majorette, mascot, or yell leader were urged to sign up with Mrs. Brown, Lu Anne Carpenter, or Bunny Barone. All those who signed up met with the gym teachers on January 3 in Room A.

The most important thing discussed at the last executive board meeting was the group dinner that will take place sometime in January. A committee of two, Jim D'Amour and Bill Martin, was chosen to get information of the various restaurants around the Bay Area.

The annual Block "J" Father and Son football banquet was held December 11 in the Jefferson High School cafeteria. The food prepared by the "San Pedro Lunch" in Colma was roast beef, mashed potatoes, peas, carrots, spaghetti, and apple pie a la mode. After the dinner, awards were presented to the athletes that earned them. This year Coach McGrath presented as special guest, Jess Frietas, head coash of CSM's football team.

Heart Associations Ready Fund Appeal

Nine Heart Associations in the Bay Area will conduct their annual appeal for funds during "Heart Month" in February, it was announced today by Ray B. Wiser, chairman of the Board of the California Heart Association.

Mr. Wiser pointed out that heart disease is responsible for 54.2% of the deaths in California and the leading cause of death beyond the age 35. A total of $447,693 was raised in 1956 by Bay Area County Heart Association of heart disease.

"More funds will be needed for next year" Mr. Wiser said, "to make this knowledge available to physicians, nurses and other health personnel to save lives and put cardiac patients back into a productive life."

Of the nine Bay Area Associations, six will be conducting independent drives including door to door collections on Heart Sunday, February 24th, Solano, Napa, Sonoma, Marin, Contra Costa, and Santa Clara. Three Associations, Alameda, San Francisco and San Mateo, who obtain support from the United Crusade funds, will seek supplementary funds through mail appeals in Alameda and San Mateo and through a residential solicitation for membership in San Francisco, also on February 24th.

New Tax Rates Now Effective For Employers

Employers are reminded by Harold Hawkins, Internal Revenue Service, District Director, that amendments have changed tax rates under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (Social Security) and filing requirements under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

New FICA rates on wages paid on or after January 1, 1957, will be 2¼ percent each for employers and employees, a total of 4½ percent, Hawkins said.

The changes in the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, he explained, provides that employers who had four or more employees on at least one day of each of 20 calendar weeks during 1956 will be required to file Form 940 by January 31, 1957. The filing of Form 940, Annual Federal Tax Return of Employers, was formerly required of employers who had eight or more employees.

Hawkins said that copies of this return are being sent to employers in this district.

For further information contact Mrs. William Gitlitz, LO 4-9220.

Police Nab Banner Thieves On Way To Broadmoor Station

Six juveniles were picked up by Broadmoor police Saturday night after they had made off with a local restaurant's advertising "flag" for the second time within three days.

Police stopped the youths at Sullivan and Washington and found the flag belonging to Dave Ludwig's Steak Pit on Junipero Serra in their possession.

The youngsters said they had intended to fly the flag from the Broadmoor police station pole.

On Thursday the juveniles took the banner and strung it atop the Daly City community center.

They were turned over to their parents after a reprimand.

Rotarians Give $156 For Hungarian Relief

A plea for immediated financial aid for Hungarian refugees who have fled to Austria in recent weeks was met to the tune of $156 by the Daly City Rotary club last week.

In response to a letter from Viktor A. Straberger of Wels, Austria, also a Rotarian, the Daly City club took up a collection at their luncheon which netted $31. Members then voted an allocation of $75 from the treasury, bringing the total one-day donation to $156.

Straberger explained in his letter that five refugee camps have been set up in the area of Wels. The refugees "come with nothing," he said, adding that they don't even have toothbrushes, razor blades, socks or warm clothing.

REVENUE SERVICE MAILS INCOME TAX FORMS THIS WEEK

Federal income tax forms for use during the 1956 filing season are in the mails and should reach taxpayers by January 10, officials of the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

Each taxpayer who filed in 1956 will be sent forms from the Service's central mailing plant at Kansas City, based on his return for the previous year. Those taxpayers who have changed addresses will receive their forms if the post office has a record of their new locations, officials said.

Accountants and attorneys who may need advance copies will find reasonable supplies of forms available at local offices. Farmers who file and pay estimated taxes by the January 31, 1956, deadline may also obtain forms at local offices this week. All mail requests for forms should be addressed to the District Director of Internal Revenue at 100 McAllister street, San Francisco 2, California.

Farmers who file and pay by the February 15 deadline and individual taxpayers whose filing deadline is April 15 are asked to await mail delivery of their forms.

BIG and little Braves belonging to one of the Indian Guides tribes wait their turn in an induction ceremony during the group's annual campout at La Honda last summer. The campout is one of many activities staged by the San Francisco Longhouse, under the direction of Dr. Richard Koch, Longhouse chief. Koch will explain the Indian Guides program to Westlake and Broadmoor primary youngsters next week.

INDIAN 'CHIEF' TO VISIT LOCAL PRIMARY GRADES

By Gwin Mitchell

Next week an Indian chief in full regalia will pay a visit to the primary grades of the Garden Village, Benjamin Franklin, Olympia and Westlake schools. He will be there to tell the boys in those grades about the Indian Guides, and to invite them and their fathers to a special meeting.

The chief is Dr. Richard Koch, long active in Indian Guides, a fathers-and-sons club program sponsored by the YMCA, and at present, chief of the San Francisco Longhouse. The special meeting will be for all fathers and sons in the Westlake-Broadmoor area who are interested in joining the group. It will be held on Friday, January 18, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Westlake clubhouse on Lake Merced boulevard.

Legended Unit

Indian Guides itself is a proven program of long standing. Sometimes known as "Friendly Indians," it began in St. Louis, Mo., in 1926 and became a national organization in 1935. As the name indicates, the program is based on the lore of the American Indian, because of the interest of most men and boys in the subject, and principally because of the Indian way of father handing down to son, personally, the aims and purposes of life as something to be lived well—both for oneself and for others.

Indian Guides, therefore, is a program developed for the busy but thinking father of today who is concerned lest someone else become the chum and confidante of his son, and for the boy who, at ages 5 to 9, thinks his father is just about the greatest man in the world. It reaches the son at an early age, and thereby lengthens the rich years father and son may spend together.

The basic unit is the tribe, made up of about nine fathers and their sons, with an elected group of officers that includes a chief, assistant chief, medicine man, wampum bearer, and tally keeper. Tribes meet twice a month, and the projects and activities developed depend on the aims and interests of the members. There are no rigid requirements or set practices which must be met. A list of what some tribes have found interesting to do appears in the Guides national manual, including such things as handicraft, hiking, story-telling, collections of Indian relics, discussions, field trips, games, and the like.

Colorful Powwows

Tribal meetings are held in rotation at the homes of the Braves (as all members are called), with light refreshments usually being served. In order to keep the father-son feeling intact, neither can attend without the other. There is a short but impressive ceremony which opens these council meetings, called to order by the beating of an Indian tom-tom. Each tribe also has its own insignia and costume.

In San Francisco and adjacent areas, all tribes belong to one of two nations, the Deer and the Bear, and participate in nation activities from time to time. Nation officers correspond to tribal ones, and have much the same duties to fulfill. The nations, in turn, belong to the San Francisco Longhouse, and, through their officers, take part in its projects and discussions, and act as liaison between the Longhouse and the various tribes.

Two Longhouse annual activities which are looked forward to with much enthusiasm by all members are the fathers-and-sons banquet, to be held this year on Saturday, Feb. 2, and the weekend parade, to be held Sunday, Feb. 10.

Many Tribes

Currently, there are about 25 tribes in the Deer and Bear nations, with a membership of some 250 fathers and 300 sons which is growing steadily. This growth is being repeated both in the Northern California Longhouse and nationally, as more and more fathers realize their sons' needs for companionship and guidance in a complex world.

Many fathers in the Colma-Daly City area are already active in Indian Guides, among them Vincent Murphy, Robert Buchanan, Dr. Robert Terry, William Beck, Donald Williams, Robert Fernekes, Dr. Earl Herald, Martin Orloff, Dr. Warren Price, Richard Changnon, John Mitchell, Guido de Ghetaldi, George Quiros, Robert Mathes and many others.

WESTLAKE YULE SHOPPERS' RUSH 'BIGGEST' EVER

Merchants of the Westlake Shopping Center reported one of the largest Christmas shopping crowds in history, with a gross business exceeding last year, according to a survey released today.

In line with the general trend throughout the rest of the United States, shoppers did more late buying than ever before. The 64 stores of Westlake were crowded past capacity the last few days prior to Christmas, with clerks working at top speed to serve the wants of gift buyers.

In line with the general upsweep in business at Westlake, the kiddie rides did a land office business with over 78,000 rides checked out during the stay of the six-ride concession. Santa Claus handed out more than 10,000 candy canes and nearly as many gifts to the hordes of children who visited him in his North Pole branch office at Westlake court.

According to a survey of the merchants of Westlake, the outlook for 1957 is bright. More homes have added new residents, with the total now standing at 16,156 people living in Westlake.

Temple Judea Sets Officers For '57 Term

Charles Becker was elected president of Temple Judea for 1957 at a recent meeting held by the congregation's board of trustees.

Others chosen were: Dr. Sanford Marcus, first vice president; Mrs. Arnold Beinner, second vice president (re-elected); Joseph Friedman, treasurer; Mrs. Phillip Markinson, recording secretary, and Mrs. Charles Wine, corresponding secretary.

The new officers will be installed at Sabbath Eve services this Friday.

Mrs. Lena Atowich of Calistoga presented a Torah to Temple Judea last week in memory of her husband, Kiva. This is the Temple's first Torah, and Mrs. Anthony Horne and Mrs. Jennie Epstein were instrumental in securing it for the congregation, according to Rabbi Leo J. Stillpass. Mrs. Atowich also contributed several religious objects to the Westlake group.

The Temple's Hebrew classes will commence tomorrow. Religious school will resume this Saturday and Sunday. Parents interested in enrolling children should immediately contact Rabbi Stillpass.

Temple Men's Club will present "a most novel" Mr. and Mrs. Night on January 19.

TOP man in OLPH Men's Club recent paper drive, Jim Pierce, 876 Brunswick street, OLPH junior high school student, accepts congratulations and a $5 cash award from Peter Lofrano, Men's Club president. Looking on is Dan Brooks, drive chairman.

Judge Bocci To Jail All Drunken Motorists

Motorists convicted of drunken driving over the New Year holiday will face jail sentences, municipal judge Thomas L. Bocci avowed in a news release received today.

The judge said he would follow recommendation of Governor Goodwin Knight "to levy a jail sentence on all drunk driving and other flagrant violators apprehended through the New Year's holiday."

Judge Bocci said the recent increase in the schedule of fines for drunk driving had had no effect in reducing the violations. "The only remaining alternative is to impose automatic jail sentences," he concluded.

2 Bandits Hold Up Gene Comptons; Escape With $1400

Two young bandits walked into Gene Compton's cafeteria in Westlake shortly past closing time Friday night and escaped with $1400 cash after forcing the manager to open the safe at gunpoint while seven employees were herded into the back room.

The manager, Robert Rodgers, 80 Forest Grove drive, said the pair entered the building through a side door leading to the alley just after 10 p.m. One of the robbers, wearing a woman's stocking over his forehead, approached a cook, Hobard Voswell, and asked him where the manager was.

When Voswell replied that the Rodgers was out in front, the masked gunman blurted, "No he isn't. He's in the back office."

Both gunmen then herded six men and a woman employe into the rear office, where the masked bandit ordered Rodgers to another part of the cafeteria where the safe is located.

After forcing Rodgers to open the safe, the masked culprit removed a drawer containing only currency, but made no attempt to raid other compartments or the cash register.

Rodgers then was ordered back to the rear office with the other employees. One of the gunmen slammed the door shut, while his partner carried the tray full of money out the side door. The bandits were seen speeding away in a delapidated 1947 sedan.

Both men were described as being about 22 to 25 years old. Employees said the second bandit had a pock-marked face and was wearing a blue jacket. The masked man brandished a .45 automatic, while his accomplice carried a smaller gun.

Two employees said they could positively identify the unmasked bandit. A third witness, Richard Bruous, of Godfrey's Ice Cream Shop, 383 South Mayfair, told police the pair were in his establishment a few minutes before the robbery.

The holdup was the second at the cafeteria within the past two years. The earlier robbery still remains unsolved.

LOCAL COPS BOOK SOUTH CITY MAN AS DRUNK DRIVER

John Ely Butler, 30, South San Francisco truck driver, was arrested for drunk driving here early Wednesday morning after police spotted his car weaving in and out of lanes on Mission street.

Butler also was cited for driving without an operator's license. He flunked a sobriety test at Junipero Serra hospital.

Judge Thomas L. Bocci Jr. set bail at $500 cash or $1000 bond. No court date was determined at press time.

MATTIA'S ITALIAN RESTAURANT, located at 7335 Mission St., is closed Mondays—but offers one of the best lunches in town during the rest of the week! Cost is $1.00—and includes soup, salad, paste, entree and coffee. (Served from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.) (Back bar here is something to see: made of solid mahogany—with a delicate carving of grapes and vines, it once graced the pre-earthquake magnificence of the old Palace Hotel.)

HARRIS BROS. AUTO BODY WORKS AND RADIATOR SHOP at 5990 Mission St. has the very latest equipment for cleaning, repairing or re-coring your radiator. AND one of the pleasantest dispositions in town! Keep this shop in mind when your radiator needs checking or fixing—and see Mr. Harris first. (Most stations and shops will keep your car longer—and will have to send it out to be fixed anyway).

In Westlake your best bets are the annual WHITE SALES which will be starting at both the PENNEY'S and W. T. GRANT CO. stores. Prices here will make the trip well worth your while!

To at least two people in Daly City, the reading of holiday traffic fatalities will never be mere statistics—happening to someone else. The Christmas Eve traffic death of 75-year-old Mr. Anglin occured in front of the de LEON MUSIC STORE and it was the helping hands and calmness of Mr. and Mrs. de Leon who kept the situation under control until help could arrive.

DALY CITY BLIND & SHADE'S Ray and Mae Charette now have a seven-weeks-old Siamese kitten to companion their eight-weeks-old Shelfie pup. Both seem above average I. Q. The kitten has discovered how sensitive a pup's nose can be when tapped with claws—and the puppy still wanting to play, now backs up to the kitten to make his advances!

McGRAW BROTHER'S "REXALL" DRUG STORE is back to normal after its terrific Christmas and New Year's (Eve) traffic. . . . Soon as things settle down just a little more—you should be finding some wonderful buys here!

Best poultry buy in town is the (colored) fresh cut up fricassee chickens at IDEAL POULTRY — three pounds for just 95c! Tender and meaty, these cook in about one third the time of most fricassees—and retain all of their flavor! Ideal Poultry is located at 5619 Mission, call JU 7-3453.

New home of the DOUBLE A MARKET—next door to its present location at 5901 Mission—will feature U.S.D.A. Choice Meats cut to your measure by butcher Jay Klein. . . . Opening time should be in a week or so with hundreds of bargains—wonderful off-street parking—and the same personalized and friendly service you've always found at the DOUBLE A.

Blouse buys start MODE O'DAY'S "Greater Value Event" which lasts through January . . . means money savings for you.

Theresa, Joe and almost-four-year-old Joanne Berning (of BERNING'S STORE FOR MEN & BOYS—in Broadmoor) left Saturday, December 29, for a visit over New Year's with Mr. Berning's 84-year-old father in Omaha . . . and Theresa's first vacation in six years.

WEITZEL'S SHOE STORE owners, Bing and Mabel Weitzel, will be doing ditto around the latter part of February when they go to Denver to see their daughter, Barbara. . . .

One of the handiest housewife's kits in town is an "all purpose" utility NEEDLE KIT sold by SHANNON HARDWARE. Made of finest nickle plated Sheffield steel, these needles will not rust and make all types of repair work easy—from car upholstery, rugs, carpets, golf bags and home upholstery—to sewing up the turkey (as we did). . . . In two sizes: 35c—six needles, 59c—more. . . .

PORTE'S DEPARTMENT STORE rounded out their Christmas season with this telephoned query from "a gentleman": "Do you carry bras?" Mrs. Porte, never at a loss, replied, "We do—Warner's and Loveable." . . . Whereupon the gentleman sighed, "That's FINE," and hung up!

GEORGE'S SHOE REPAIR owner, Mr. McKenzie, says he got the idea for his beautiful, hand pa' ted Nativity scene Christmas window from a '55 Westlake prize winner—WESTLAKE CHINESE FOODS. . . . He asked the name of the artists (a woman) and had her do his this year's "car stopper." . . . (So much perking up of interest in Christmas decor—how about the Chamber of Commerce, say, starting a Top of the Hill prize winning contest for '57?)

DALY CITY DRUG CO.'s "Lucky Coupon" contest winners were: 1st prize—Lionel Train—to Johnny Cardinale of East Vista Ave.; 2nd prize—Jr. Carpenter Set—to Bobby Code of Miriam St.; 3rd prize—the beautiful Outing Set (which I hoped to win for myself) to "Jimmy" Link of San Pedro Ave., Colma . . . (seems Mr. Link—Jim—was entered in the contest by his daughters who said, "If we win, we'll give it to Dad for Christmas"—and they did!); 4th prize—a Giant Panda—was won by little Irene Spurlock of Hillcrest Drive. . . . All in all, a really good and successful contest, we say!

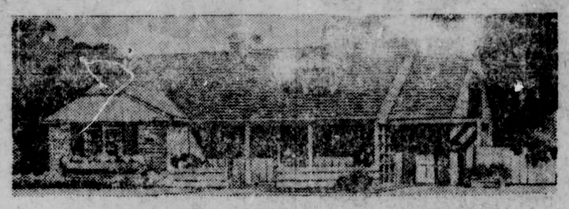
2-Family Home in Disguise



Modern architecture at last has turned its talents and skills to the two-family house. The result is a home that looks like a home, and not like a small apartment building.

An example is this compact, nine-room house designed for two-family living by architect Rudolph A. Matern, of Jamaica, N.Y. It is plan No. SR9518.

From the viewpoint of a passerby the house could be a modern, one-family Cape Cod, with its steeply sloping asphalt-shingle roof and its inviting panel entrance door of ponderosa pine, painted to harmonize with the roof color.

This particular style of house lends itself to colorful exterior treatment, since the wide expanse of roof is readily visible from the ground. The homeowner can take advantage of this opportunity in his selection of asphalt shingles in one of the many deep color tones and light pastels available.

The middle door in the drawing leads to the first-floor apartment, which has three bedrooms, a 19-foot living room with fireplace, a dining room, kitchen with breakfast nook, and two baths.

The second-floor quarters are reached through the door at the right. The apartment has one bedroom, a 20-foot living room, dining room with provision for a folding bed, and a kitchen with breakfast bar.

One of the most important features of the house, which utilizes the "attic" area for living space, is complete insulation. Architect Matern specifies the use of thick batts or blankets of mineral wool in all exterior walls and in the ceiling of the second floor.

Two unusual features of the design are outdoor patios for both families and an entrance to the basement from both apartments.

Additional information, blueprints and specifications can be obtained from Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica, L.I., N.Y

'Prankster' Ignites Three Xmas Wreaths

A prankster turned arsonist was blamed by police for setting fire to Christmas door wreaths at three Westlake homes Monday night.

Victims were H. H. Dierieux, 195 Lake Vista; Howard Shaw, 802 North Mayfair, and Riviello Cosmo, 860 North Mayfair.

In each instance, damage amounted to scorched paint and blistered ceilings. Wooden, kitchen matches were found outside two of the homes, police said.

By Mona Baker

As a new year begins we thought it might be of interest to our readers to recall important events during 1956 in the television industry and the progress that we can look for in 1957.

Last year was a momentous one for television. Particularly impressive was the tremendous increase in colored programs over NBC, KRON-TV, with one or more colored telecasts every day of the week. A milestone too, was the development of the first practical "color kinescope" recording which was shown for the first time in September to the press by a special NBC closed circuit colorcast. It has been particularly important to viewers on the West Coast because major NBC network programs have been seen over KRON-TV at convenient evening viewing hours. Another important event in the fall was the receiving by NBC in New York of a distinguishable live television signal with audio direct from BBC in London, England.

Local Boom

Last year was an important year too, for stations locally. KQED received television's highest honor, the coveted George Foster Peabody award. Another important occasion for Cannel 9 was the start of the experimental teaching television series produced by San Francisco State College and financed by a grant from the Ford Foundation. In the [illegible] moved into its own [illegible]s, and the end of the year found the station moving its transmitter to a better location. The structure will be in two [illegible] a tower rising 898 feet [illegible] the ground, and on top of [illegible] antenna with an elevation [illegible] feet above sea level.

The important accomplishments of KGO-TV in 1956 [illegible] outstanding coverage of the Republican Convention. The station constructed temporary studios, which were equivalent to space for a 14-room house, at the Cow Palace in order to telecast the convention. Also during the spring last year, KGO-TV conducted the station's first school for political candidates.

Channel 5

The end of 1956 found KPIX celebrating its eighth year on the air, scheduling more than 140 hours a week, reaching 1,111,000 homes. Last fall the station began telecasting colored movies.

KSAN-TV acquired new studios last year, located in the heart of San Francisco on busy Market street.

We look forward to continued progress in 1957 by the television industry and can expect more programs in color and more of an educational nature. According to a recent announcement NBC is aiming for two major color television programs every night for the 1957-58 season. Also this year, NBC plans to furnish specialized educational programs to [illegible] of the nation's non-commercial educational channels at no charge. Experiments will continue to receive telecasts from [illegible], and perhaps this year, television may carry us, not only across thousands of miles of land, but thousands of miles of ocean, too.

TITLE-HAPPY JEFF LIFTS LID AGAINST FRISKY MATEO CAGERS

Jefferson's title-minded Indian cagers draw a stiff assignment this Friday night when they host the defending champion San Mateo Bearcats in the North PAL lid-lifter for both contenders.

The doubleheader opens at 7:30 o'clock and a capacity crowd is expected to jam the Jeff gym for what promises to be an eye-opener.

Tough Debut

Ranked right with Capuchino and upstart Carlmont as the most likely to succeed, the Tribe will have to pull out the stops in their first hurdle on the rocky road to the top.

Coach Mike Orlich is confident his five has the stuff that could take them all the way. His optimism is so keen that he predicts a season similar to the '53 and '54 campaigns. The Indians copped the PAL crown with a 12-0 slate in '53 and lost the title to Capuchino the next year in a thrilling playoff.

Indian Ace

Orlich's trump card is forward Larry Pottinger, a deadly southpaw, who has averaged 15-plus points a game over the practice schedule. Pottinger could lead the loop in scoring as he is headed for an outstanding year.

At the other forward slot, Orlich has steady Bob Comstock, another returnee, who is usually good for double figures in each contest.

Rugged Tom Cloutier, 6-4 grid veteran, holds down the pivot post, and he has a good fillin in Dennis Marc, a newcomer with fine potential.

Barry Haanen and Gary Ryan are never-let-up guards, giving Jeff good balance in the backcourt. Also expected to see plenty of duty at guard is Delmar Scott, a consistent scorer whose height, 6-3, will help on the boards.

Bearcats Tough

As usual, Bearcat tutor Ed Burda will bring a strong contingent into Indian territory, perhaps not as potent as the '55 club, but certainly a team to be reckoned with.

San Mateo's best shots are forwards Terry Curley and Al Holmes, and center Dave Langrock, 6-3, a mainstay good with either hand.

Last year the Tribe led the league midway through the race with a 5-0 mark. But they pulled an el foldo, finishing at 5-5. One of their wins came over the Bearcats.

The Jeff varsity concluded its practice slate last Thursday with a 32-29 romp over Mission of San Francisco. Pottinger set the pace with 12 points.

Steve Mezzera's 30's were routed by the Mission lightweights, 67-37, giving the locals a 3-3 practice mark.

Top Lightweights

Mezzera's hopes are built around forward Wayne Lewis, a hard-working speedster, and center Ernie Howren, a quick and lanky performer.

In other North PAL openers this Friday, high-tabbed Capuchino tangles with neophyte Hillsdale in San Mateo and Burlingame entertains weak South San Francisco.

Carlmont, red hot to date, draws a bye this week, but the Scots will keep in shape by playing Mountain View in their final warmup.

The Indian fives travel to Burlingame next Tuesday afternoon, then meet Hillsdale here next Friday night.

South PAL action doesn't begin until next Tuesday.

Gaels Assume Loop Lead By Whipping Rec, 41-38

St. Gabriel's Gaels, ignited by Joe Duckworth's 22 points, grabbed undisputed hold on first place in the Class A Recreation League Saturday by tripping a peppy Rec Dept. five, 41-38.

The setback for the Rec kids dropped them to second place with a 3-1 mark.

The tilt was close all the way, decided primarily by the Gaels' effectiveness on the free throw line.

Hilton Guillory sparked the losers with 13 digits.

In other Class A games, St. James overwhelmed Holy Angels, 38-12, and Sacred Heart broke into the win column with a 33-22 triumph over St. Cecilia's.

St. James' conquest saw Moses Ticas bagging 26 of his team's total points, highest individual output so far this season. John Gallagher led Sacred Heart with 14.

St. Stephen's remained unbeaten in the Class B loop, coming from behind to whip Sacred Heart, 35-25

St. Gabriel's Babes toyed with Westview and breezed to a 23-3 victory.

Westmoor Varsity Seeks First Win Vs. Coast Quint

Pea green but frisky, Westmoor High's varsity basketballers will be gunning for their first victory of the season this Friday night when they clash with Half Moon Bay on the Coast hardwoods.

The twin bill pitting the independents starts at 7 o'clock.

Coach Tony Giammona's Rams, playing a practice schedule in this their first campaign, are 0-3 to date. Lick-Wilmerding dumped the locals twice, and Westmoor dropped its third outing to Lincoln's jayvees of San Francisco.

Best pointmaker thus far in the Ram lineup is Rich Lewetzou, a promising kid who has hit double figures in each contest.

The Ram 30's, bossed by Byron Van Alstyne, are off to a good start. They nipped Lick-Wilmerding in two close tilts and were defeated by Lincoln's lightweights.

Zany Globetrotters Slate Two Scraps At Cow Palace

The hilarious Harlem Globetrotters will open their California campaign at the Cow Palace against the Washington Generals on Friday January 18, and return for a repeat performance on Friday, January 25.

Next Monday, January 7, the Trotters celebrate their 30th anniversary. They started out in a 4th-hand flivver on January 7, 1927, playing their first game at Hinckley, Illinois. And they didn't need the services of a Brinks car to tote home their take-home pay. Things are different now.

Tickets for the San Francisco games are now on sale at Crane Box Office, 245 Powell street.

Games in this vicinity are scheduled as follows:

San Francisco, Jan. 18 and 25; Oakland, Jan. 19 and 26; Sacramento, Jan. 20 and 27; San Jose, Jan. 21 and 28; and Stockton, Jan. 22.

THE "SEVEN SEAS"

Each year Navy ships gather water from the "Seven Seas" to christen the class rings of new second classmen attending the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

The Seven Seas of Ancient times included the Sea of Salt Water which surrounds India; the Sea of Sugar Cane, surrounding Burma; the Sea of Wind, near Malay; the Sea of Curds and Whey, near southern China; the Sea of Clarified Butter, near the Sunda Archipelago; the Sea of Milk, near Siam and Cambodia; and the Sea of Fresh Water, off the shores of northern China and Mongolia.

Nowadays, the Seven Seas have come to mean the seas of the world, and this year the USS RASHER (SR-269) dipped water from the Gulf of Siam and the South China Sea and forwarded it for the traditional Ring Dance ceremony.

SERVICE STATIONS

Service stations are one of the greatest points of sale in the United States today, according to the National Automobile Club. More than 12 billion dollars' worth of products flow through these "islands" every year.

There's a gifted new comedian with the team this year. His name is Meadowlark Lemon, and if you don't believe it, he'll show you his birth certificate. He got rave notices all over Europe last summer, and the same in this country ever since the 1956-57 season started in October.

Two Californians are on the roster, 6-7 Woody Sauldsberry, graduate of Compton High School (which gave the world such steller athletes as Charles Dumas, Hugh McElhenny, Cisco Andrade), and Handy Andy Johnson, 6-6, ace from North Hollywood.

Owner-coach Abe Saperstein is very high on this 30th edition of his beloved Trotters. He rates it one of the greatest lineups in their history. Back of the varsity "big nine" at the Cow Palace is an extensive farm system of more than 50 players.

VENTURI GRABS TIE FOR SECOND IN PRO DEBUT

Westlake's Ken Venturi, one of the nation's best amateurs, made his pro debut in the first annual San Jose State alumni pro-amateur tourney Friday, but had to settle for a second place tie.

George Bruno, Alamaden Golf Club pro, won the tourney with a four-under-par 66. Venturi and Bob Harris, pro at the Chicago Sunset Ridge Club, deadlocked at 67.

Joe Zakarian, Chicago pro, was next with a 68.

Pro Morgan Fottrell Jr. of Modesto tied with former California amateur champion Eli Bariteau Jr. for the next spot with an even par 70.

THE EXPERT

There's a difference between the person who is a good driver and the one who is an expert, says the California State Automobile Association. The good driver does nothing to cause an accident. The expert driver not only does nothing to cause an accident but he is alert and fast enough to save himself from the mistakes of other drivers.

Merchants Roll In Sixth To Edge Cafeteria Nine, 4-3

Westlake Merchants juniors poured all their hits and runs into one inning Saturday to squeak by with a 4-3 victory over Moar's Cafeteria and stretch their undefeated string to eight straight.

Coach Jack Ingles' nine trailed, 3-0, going into the sixth. Singles by Al Acri and Rich Clarke and a double and a single by Bob Farber did the trick, as the lineup batted all the way around in the big sixth.

Al Le Mire twirled the win, giving up four hits, walking two batters.

The juniors see action again next Saturday in a noon game at Graham field. Ingles' senior club will resume play Sunday against an unnamed opponent to launch two months of independent play.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

How to Cut a Bolt

AN EASY method of reducing the length of a bolt is recommended by The Home Craftsman magazine. Directions are:

Take a nut that fits the bolt to be cut. Saw through one side with a hack saw. After running the nut on the bolt to the point of the cut-off, place the nut in the vise as shown. Tightening the vise applies pressure on the nut, closing the gap and securing the bolt without damage to the threads. Now use the hack saw to cut the bolt.

Finish the cut end of the bolt with a file by placing it in the vise as shown in the lower figure

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Backwoods Surgeon

The modern surgeon who invents a radical new operating technique may fear that it won't be successful — but he's in no danger of being lynched if it isn't. The man who performed the world's first operation to remove a tumor from an ovary, however, had reason to fear precisely that.

The rope was ready for Ephraim McDowell that day in 1809. In the backwoods of Kentucky, a mob of more than a hundred frontiersmen battered at his door while he was working inside and accused him of trying to murder his patient. The dramatic story is told in Pfizer Spectrum, magazine for doctors.

The operation was performed in the small town of Danville, to which the patient was carried on horseback from her wilderness home 60 miles away. Lying on a plain wooden table under the sedative effect of a few opium pills, the woman sang hymns in a quavering voice while McDowell and two assistants operated.

The operation, as both surgeon and patient knew, was extremely dangerous. Nevertheless, McDowell managed to remove the tumor and close the incision with complete success. The mob outside, mercurial in temper as most mobs are, cheered when it heard the news.

The patient lived to be 78 years old. The pioneering surgeon lived too, to perform 11 more such operations, 10 of them successful —an amazing record in a period before anesthesia or antiseptics.
